Century Old Joshua Green Building Remodeling Project

Joshua Green Corporation, a commercial property ownership and management client of Carney attorney John Dippold, will begin a major renovation of the 100-year old Joshua Green Building in late summer of 2008. Mr. Dippold is responsible for negotiating and drafting the construction contracts with the general contractor, architect and consultants.

Joshua Green Corporation is a family holding company for the descendants of Seattle pioneer Joshua Green, with substantial retail real estate holdings in Washington state. Both Green and his namesake building have a storied role in Seattle's history.
