Appellate Practice - Speaker: Rory D. Cosgrove

Rory D. Cosgrove joined Carney Badley Spellman in 2016 after having clerked for two years for Chief Judge James R. Verellen of the Washington State Court of Appeals, Division One. Mr. Cosgrove's clerkship experience gave him valuable insight into the judicial decision-making process. He uses that insight to offer a unique perspective to his clients.

Mr. Cosgrove graduated from Willamette University College of Law, graduating summa cum laude and second in his class. He focuses his practice on civil appeals, including post-trial motions practice, in both state and federal courts. He authors an appellate blog, offering insight on recent appellate decisions and practice tips on the appellate process: <https://www.carneylaw.com/cosgroveappellateblog/>.

Mr. Cosgrove is an Honorary Member of the King County Bar Association Appellate Section's Executive Committee and a member of the Washington Defense Trial Lawyers Amicus Committee.

Mr. Cosgrove is committed to pro bono work. He volunteers monthly at the Housing Justice Project, where he advises and represents low-income tenants facing eviction. He is part of the Ninth Circuit's Pro Bono Program. And he drafts amicus curiae briefs for the Washington Defense Trial Lawyers Association.

Mr. Cosgrove lived in France for three years teaching English, and speaks French fluently.
